Personally identifiable information is any piece of information which can potentially be used to uniquely identify, contact, or locate a single person including names, addresses, email addresses, telephone numbers, social security and tax identification numbers, and credit card information.

Distributor and Customer Registration

In order to become a Distributor, an applicant must provide biographical and contact information (such as name, mailing address, telephone numbers, and email address) to us. We also require an applicant’s Social Security Number or Federal Tax ID Number so that we may prepare and file necessary non-employee compensation forms for the IRS. Certain customers may be required to register in order to purchase products directly from us (“Registered Customers”). Registered Customers will be required to provide contact information (such as name, mailing address, telephone number(s), and email address) and payment information (such as credit card or checking account information). We use this information to maintain contact with Distributors and Registered Customers, and to process Distributor and Registered Customer orders.

GGC Rewards may share aggregated information from time to time with its partners, vendors or other third parties. When such aggregate information is shared by GGC Rewards, no personally identifiable information is shared.

Profile Information

GGC Rewards stores information that it collects through cookies, log files, clear gifs, and/or third parties to create a profile of visitors to our websites (“users”), including customers, Registered Customers, and Distributors. A profile is stored information that GGC Rewards keeps on individual users that details their viewing preferences. Profile information is tied to the user’s personally identifiable information to provide offers and improve the content of the site for the user. GGC Rewards does not share profile information with other third parties.

Cookies

A cookie is a piece of data stored on a user’s computer tied to information about the user. Usage of a cookie is in no way linked to any personally identifiable information while on the websites. GGC Rewards uses both session ID cookies and persistent cookies. For the session ID cookie, once users close the browser, the cookie simply terminates. A persistent cookie is a small text file stored on the user’s hard drive for an extended period of time. Persistent cookies can be removed by following Internet browser help file directions.

By setting a cookie on a user’s computer, users do not have to log in a password more than once, thereby saving time while at the websites. If a user rejects the cookie, the user will still be able to use the site. The only drawback to this is that the user may need to enter his or her password every time he or she accesses the site.

Log Files

Like most standard website servers GGC Rewards’s websites use log files. This includes internet protocol (IP) addresses, browser type, internet service provider (ISP), referring/exit pages, platform type, date/time stamp, and number of clicks to analyze trends, administer the site, track user’s movement in the aggregate, and gather broad demographic information for aggregate use. IP addresses, etc. are not linked to personally identifiable information. IP addresses are tied to personally identifiable information to enable our web-based service. We use a tracking utility that uses log files to analyze user movement.

Clear Gifs (Web Beacons/Web Bugs)

GGC Rewards employs a software technology called clear gifs (a.k.a. Web Beacons/Web Bugs), that help GGC Rewards to better manage content on the websites by informing it what content is effective. Clear gifs are tiny graphics with a unique identifier, similar in function to cookies, and are used to track the online movements of users. The main difference between the two is that clear gifs are invisible on the page and are much smaller, about the size of the period at the end of this sentence. Clear gifs are tied to users’ personally identifiable information. Clear gifs are not tied to users’ personally identifiable information.

In addition, GGC Rewards uses clear gifs in its HTML-based emails to let it know which emails have been opened by the recipients. This allows GGC Rewards to gauge the effectiveness of certain communications and the effectiveness of our marketing campaigns.

COMMUNICATIONS FROM US

SHARING

Legal Disclaimer

Though GGC Rewards makes every effort to preserve user privacy, GGC Rewards may need to disclose personal information when required by law wherein we have a good-faith belief that such action is necessary to comply with a current judicial proceeding, a court order or legal process served on GGC Rewards.

Aggregate Information (non-personally identifiable)

GGC Rewards shares aggregated demographic information with our partners and advertisers. This is not linked to any personally identifiable information.

These are the instances in which we will share users' personal information:

GGC Rewards DOES NOT Share Personally Identifiable Information about users with any Third Parties.

Service Providers

GGC Rewards partners with other third parties to provide specific services. When necessary to provide services or products to Distributors, Registered Customers, and other customers, we share names and/or other contact information with service providers and vendors. Such third parties are not allowed to use personally identifiable information except for the purpose of providing these services.

Business Transitions

In the event GGC Rewards goes through a business transition, such as a merger, being acquired by another company, or selling a portion of its assets, the personal information of Distributors and customers will, in most instances, be part of the assets transferred. If as a result of the business transition, a Distributor's or customer's personally identifiable information will be used in a manner different from that stated at the time of collection, the Distributor or customer will be given choice consistent with our notification of changes section.

Choice

Users are always notified when their information is being collected by any outside parties. We do this so users can make an informed choice as to whether or not they should proceed with services that require an outside party.

Links

GGC Rewards's websites may contain links to other sites. Please be aware that GGC Rewards is not responsible for the privacy practices of such other sites. We encourage users to be aware when they leave our site and to read the privacy statements of each and every website that collects personally identifiable information. This privacy statement applies solely to information collected by GGC Rewards websites.

Security

GGC Rewards takes every precaution to protect all users' information. When users submit sensitive information via GGC Rewards's websites, their information is protected both online and off-line.

When the Distributor Application, Customer Registration, and/or online order forms ask users to enter sensitive information (such as Bank Account number and/or social security number), that information is encrypted and is protected with the best encryption software in the industry - SSL. While on a secure page, such as the Distributor Application and Agreement and online order forms, the lock icon on the bottom of web browsers such as Mozilla Firefox and Microsoft Internet Explorer becomes locked, as opposed to un-locked, or open, when users are just 'surfing'.

While GGC Rewards uses SSL encryption to protect sensitive information online, the Company also does everything in our power to protect user information off-line. All user information, not just the sensitive information mentioned above, is restricted in GGC Rewards's offices. Only employees who need the information to perform a specific job are granted access to personally identifiable information. ALL employees are kept up-to-date on Company security and privacy practices. Finally, the servers that store personally identifiable information are in a secure environment.
